NOTES:

Peter Palmer:

“Earthy, dark red fruits with leaves and rich fertile soil. Complex with delicious flavors of dark plum, figs and iron ore. Bigger and broader on the palate, with firm tannins. An iron fist in a velvet glove.

Antonio Galloni, VINOUS, “92”

“The 2013 Pinot Noir Melville Vineyard is soft, open-knit and delicious. Fragrant, feminine pretty, the Melville speaks to grace above all else. Sweet red stone fruit, flowers, mint and spices are all beautifully layered. The Melville is not a huge nor obvious wine, but it is an absolutely gorgeous, impeccably balanced wine. Here, too, the purity of the flavors is striking.
